Cornerstone Rehabilitation offers quality service, equipment

Cornerstone Rehabilitation, 9100 Lapeer Rd., offers comprehensive outpatient therapy, occupational, physical, speech and massage therapy. Cornerstone offers specialized equipment and has the only advanced SAEBO-trained therapist. They also have equipment most clinics don’t have, offering Lite Gait for patients requiring partial weight bearing gait training. SAEBO is a functional arm training program for patients with little or no movement on hand and arm. They also have the Bioness H200.

The company strives to help patients become functional so they can do the things they want to do. Cornerstone is an outpatient clinic specializing in neuro-rehab with both adult and child patients.

The clinic offers all therapies needed. Dr. Neal Alpiner, M.D., is the clinic’s medical director. He is board-certified in physical medicine and rehabilitation, as well as pediatrics.

The clinic is in the process of expanding to a 3,100-square-foot facility, having outgrown the space it is currently in, due to the success Cornerstone has experienced. Cornerstone Rehabilitation has been open about a year and has six employees.

Davison Bacon & Sausage Works is about quality

Davison Twp. – Work starts early seven days a week at the Davison Bacon & Sausage Works, 9090 Lapeer Rd., in Davison Township, because customers have come to rely on the store as an alternative to what the owners call the mass-produced, mega-corporate food supply.

There is a real upsurge in demand for lean meats like turkey and bison (North American Buffalo). Davison Bacon & Sausage Works carry fresh cuts of both and are currently focusing on “pure” sausages and smoked cuts of each.

By “pure” they mean no added pork in these products which is the norm for most other producers.

Open in Davison since 2002, the store owners said they have developed their own recipes for everything they make — from bacon and sausages to soups. They said they also prepare everything the old-fashioned way — emphasizing quality, not quantity.

What keeps customers coming back, according to the owners, are the old fashioned smoked products, the best fresh meat selection in town and a knowledgeable staff that can help customers choose the right products and plan great meals.

Davison Bacon & Sausage Works enjoys the pride that comes from offering great food products that haven’t been mass produced.

In the future there are plans to further expand the store’s line of Buffalo meat offerings. They are now baking fresh breads every day and this spring the store will be hand-dipping ice cream cones and selling hot BBQ meals to go.

For more about the store check out the new website that includes offerings, daily and weekly specials and quantity discounts. Go to www.baconandsausage.biz. Or call 810-654-0920 for details.

Reid’s Hallmark offers wide range of collectibles

Davison — What began as Reid’s Drugs in downtown Davison back in 1915 is today one of the five largest Hallmark stores in Michigan.

Reid’s Hallmark, 837 S. State Rd., moved from downtown to its current home in the Davison Plaza in May of 1999 — serving the Davison area for a decade now.

“We’re a community-based business,” said owner Theresa Unger. “We have many loyal customers here.” Unger and her husband, Dave, have continued the tradition of Reid’s Drugs by operating a store known for having a wide range of collectibles.

Besides gift cards, the store sells a variety of gifts, toys, collectibles and the famous Hallmark Christmas ornaments. In July the store will unveil this year’s line of Hallmark Keepsake Ornaments.

“We’re here for birthdays, anniversaries and weddings,” said Alicia Hensley, Unger’s daughter, who also helps run the store. “If you can’t come in and find what you’re looking for, we’ll help you find it.”

“Reid’s Hallmark also carries a huge selection of Department 56 Villages, has a large gardening section and a selection of three different kinds of candles. On Tuesdays the store offers a 10 percent discount to all seniors, age 55 and older. Unger said Reid’s Hallmark is also very involved in the Davison schools and community.

The store not only sells wrapping paper and gift bags for all occasions, but there is also free gift wrapping available, said Unger.

“We base our whole business on customer service,” said Unger. “You come in here and we’ll wait on you.”
